PREDICTS 9 FOOT STAGE IN 1922

Resumption of Navigation On The Ohio River Will Rapidly Follow After Dams Are Constructed.

At the annual meeting of the Ohio Valley River Improvement Association held at Cincinnati, last week, it was freely predicted that every one of the 54 Locks and Dams on the Ohio River between Pittsburgh and Cairo would be built within the next two years.

Of the 54 dams to be built, 45 of them are now completed, only leaving 9 more to build, with the completion of the Dam below West Point and at Henderson work will be pushed on the dam at Leavensworth and on the dam at Addison. With the completion of these dams, a 9 foot stage of water will be maintained all the year from Pittsburgh to Henderson.

In the last few years, the shortage of railroad cars, strikes and congestions of heavy freight have turned the eyes of the commercial world to making use of inland waters to overcome this. Congress is being urged to early action on this vital question. And the present Congress is expected to appropriate sufficient funds to build all of these dams.

Surveyors have been making a survey of the Shell Hill below Addison, lying between the public road and railroad track, with the view of grading it in order to build government buildings which are to be located there. Work on these buildings and on the dam is expected to begin in the early spring.

HOSPITALITY EXTENDED ROAD MEN

Breckinridge County People All Along Route Vie With Each Other to Assist Survey Party.

"We are over in Breckinridge County," said the front chairman of the Federal survey party as he drove his spiked road into Breckinridge county soil. "And, believe me, they say it's a land of milk and honey," said the front axman as he drove a peg, and so it has been one long line of encouragement every since the survey party crossed the line.

At Irvington the people were generous and liberal, and did all that was possible to speed up the survey and to make the men, when off of duty, as pleasant as possible while the camp was located there.

From the crossing of Sinking Creek last week to Garfield where they quit off, it has been a strenuous week of hard work climbing the Sinking Creek hill with all kinds of weather to combat with, but the sting of the fierce biting winds was soon forgotten by the liberality and hospitality of the people along the route, who served the men hot lunches, milk and coffee for their noon day lunches. Invitations were freely given the men to stay over night in the private residences.

The survey party is now about 7 miles of Hardinsburg, and at the rate they are traveling the party will reach Hardinsburg about Wednesday, providing the weather is all right.

Col. Piersal and Engineer Boone were in Cloverport making arrangements for the location of the camp here next week. They made several changes in the selection of quarters for the housing of the men. The Masonic Lodge has tendered its large banquet hall which will be used by the men for sleeping quarters. R. L. Oelze also tendered the use of two second story rooms next to Taul's Insurance office, and Hilary Hardin has let his building for storage, and the housing of their trucks.

A suitable room will be secured if possible for the location of the cook and mess room to be as near these buildings as possible. Every effort of the citizens of Cloverport will be made to make their stay in the city a pleasant one.

As soon as the camp outfit is moved here the survey party will start from Hardinsburg working this way, and Cloverport may be headquarters as far down as Lewisport.

OVER $50,000 PAID OUT FOR TOBACCO THROUGH THE LOCAL BANK.

Breckinridge-Bank of Cloverport Cash Tobacco Money.

BAPTIST DRIVE EXTENDED TO 21ST.

Breckinridge Association Reports $42,355 Up to Monday Eve Returns Not Complete.

Altho the reports are incomplete from the Baptist churches of the Breckinridge Association for the 75 Million Campaign, yet $42,355 was reported up to Monday evening which is $7,355 beyond the apportionment of $35,000.

Sunday was the closing day for the 75 Million Campaign over the country, but Mr. W. C. Moorman, the Breckinridge Association Organizer, stated that the drive had been extended in Kentucky until December 21st. This is due to many of the rural churches who have not been able to raise their apportionment.

Fifteen out of sixteen churches in the Breckinridge Association had reported up to Monday evening, but Mr. Moorman added that a number of these churches would probably have more to report, so these returns are not altogether complete. These are the amounts raised by fifteen churches: Garfield $3,250; Irvington, $3,750; Hardinsburg, $5,532; Black Lick, $1,750; Glen Dean, $3,700; Clover Creek, $2,100; Bewleyville, $1,500; Corinth, $2,800; Ammons, $3,443; Cloverport, $8,000; Walnut Grove, $1,300; Friendship, $300; New Bethel, $400; Hites Run, $400; Stephensport, $2,100.

"Give me something to wear for Christmas"

Here's what a famous man says: "When I was a poor lad I always wanted a Christmas present I could wear, a stocking cap, a good suit, a nice warm overcoat—I've never gotten over it; if no one gives me something of the kind at Christmas time, I buy it myself."

He had the right idea; he still has it. Most every man and every boy wants something he can wear; something useful. We have the things men and boys buy for themselves, and our mark in the merchandise tells them of your good judgement; they know our standard.

Here are some suggestions for gifts to the men in your family

MODEL FARM FEATURE OF NOTABLE EXHIBITION.

One of the striking features of the Style Show given under the direction of the Shriners, in Lexington, was the Experiment Station booth, of University of Kentucky. A model farm showing in miniature the workings of an up-to-date Blue Grass establishment of 150 acres, with crops, cattle, poultry, from which a net annual income of $5,000 should be derived, was making the base and real crops shown. Ten tons of soil were used in pear, just beginning to shoot above the loam.

In another booth was demonstrated how poultry can make money, and the home economics department of the University had a unique display for the housewife.

MRS. TOM THUMB DIES AT HER HOME IN MASS.

Middleboro, Mass. Nov. 25.—Countess Primo Magri, probably better known as Mrs. Tom Thumb, died at her home at Warrentown, the ancestral residence, this afternoon, after a long illness. Through it all she bore up wonderfully well and, although ill, observed her birthday anniversary last month. She was 77 years old. The Countess was one of the best known liputians in the world, having been taken around the world and before crowned heads, under the management of the late Phineas T. Barnum, showman.

She was a daughter of James S. and Hulda (Warren) Bump. Another sister, Minnie, was small of stature and was before the public as an entertainer, as was the famed wife of the late Gen. Tom Thumb.

She was a member of E. W. Pierce W. R. C. of this town, the Order of Eastern Star, Daughters of the American Revolution, and Nemasket Grange.

Count Magri, her husband survives.

THIS YEARS XMAS GIFT.

Jimcracks Will Give Way in Many Homes Presents of Real Value.

This year there is going to be more sensible Christmas gifts bestowed and fewer of those useless gifts that persons give simply because they felt they ought to be giving something. The children in the schools are responsible for this in a great measure. They have been taught the value of saving, and in doing so have learned the value of War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps. For the vast volume of petty gifts, little jimcracks and the like, the Thrift Stamp is going to take its place, while there will be War Savings Stamps for a more substantial present, while the still more pretentious present will be the Treasury Savings Certificate that is sold by the United States Treasury Department in denominations of $100 and $1000.

NEW YORK MAGAZINES BEING PUBLISHED ELSEWHERE.

According to the Advertising and Selling magazine, Cincinnati printers have been given the work on Harper's McClure's, Century and St. Nicholas, on account of the printing situation in New York. In Chicago the Cosmopolitan is being printed in Cleveland. Vanity Fair in Harrisburg, Pa., Vogue, Physical Culture is also being printed in Chicago. This accounts for the delay in these publications.

THE LAND OF MEMORY.

To The Editor of The Sun—Sir: I wonder if each of the old boys who have been recalling the memories of life in the country made a wagon in the tool shed or barn—a wagon by which to haul walnuts, butternuts and shellbarks. All boys then had a good deal of mechanical ability and could use the drawing knife and other tools fairly well.

Well do I remember such a wagon I made. It was a marvel of efficiency. It had solid wood wheels on ash axles and was in fact the miniature of the big farm wagon except as to wheels. The body had a capacity of about three bushels. Though the axles were liberally supplied with tallow, hard grease or soap it creaked and groaned under a load of nuts all the way down the farm road leading from the woods to the barn.

What fun that nut gathering was! If the frosts had not brought down all the nuts we risked life and limb by climbing the trees to pole or shake them down. How good those nuts were as during the winter evenings we sat with a flatiron between our knees and cracked, cracked, cracked!

In those days woolen wrist warmers and wollen scarfs, knit by mother or grandmother, were absolute essentials of winter wear, both as regards utility and personal adornment. The scarfs were usually of gay colors, with red predominating. An attractive scarf helped a boy a lot with the girls.

We skated on frozen creeks and on bottom fields on which the water had overflowed and frozen. We sledged on the steep hill roads with home made sleds of solid wood, the runners of which were shod with solid round irons.

And in the summer did you ever carry water in jugs to the harvesters from a spring that seemed a mile distant? That was a job, but there were compensations—intervals of sitting in the shade playing mumble the peg—we never knew there was a "the" in the game—eating raspberries that grew wild in the fence rows and stony, uncultivated places, and having one's fill of Early Harvester apples.

Another diversion was hoeing the corn and pulling off the suckers. Backs were stronger then.

Then we hauled the soft water from the uncontaminated creek or river, from which mother made delicious small beer, which was always kept in crocks, barrel shape cracks. My, but it was good! Just what the ingredients were I don't know—I wish I did—but it had a tang and flavor comparable only to the nectar of the gods. It seems to me there were raisins, yeast, sugar, cinnamon and maybe other things used in its making, but I am not sure. In these degenerate days it might be taboo.

L' ENVOI.

By Alene Blizz Cohen with a thousand apologies to Mr. Kipling.

When schools last lessons are learned, And our books are closed and discarded;

When the echoes of chapel are gone, And the thoughts of a test not regarded;

We shall rest, and faith, we shall need it.

To all books we bid adieu, Till fate, the wearer of destinies, Shall put us to work anew!

And those who were smart shall profit, They shall sit in a rocking chair;

They shall visit the picture show daily To see if their ideal is there;

They shall find real pleasures to plan for

A hope chest filled mostly with hopes;

They shall wander through Kirby's for hours,

And come out with one bar of soap.

And only the phone shall awake us, In place of the hated alarm

And no one shall work for credits, We shall use all our efforts to charm;

Shall picture the world her foot-stool, With everything just as it seems.

ARMY TRUCKS TO BE USED FOR HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION

Washington, Dec. 3.—Secretary Baker indicated to-day that the resolution adopted by the House at the last session requesting that all surplus motor vehicles of the army be sold at auction immediately would not cause the department to alter its plans for disposing of this equipment.

It has been and will continue to be the policy of the War Department to sell surplus motor propelled vehicles to the public by auction," the Secretary wrote in reply to the resolution.

Referring to the request that 22,195 vehicles be allotted to the Agricultural Department for use in highway construction, the Secretary said this number of trucks were being transferred to that department "as rapidly as possible."

AKRON GETS RECORD SHIPMENT OF RUBBER.

Akron, O., Dec. 4.—What company officials declare to be the largest shipment of crude rubber ever consigned to a manufactory is being unloaded at rubber plant today.

The shipment, which amounts to 3,000,000 pounds, is valued at $1,500,000.

It has been on the road four months coming from Sumatra, and is sufficient to manufacture 350,000 average tires.

MILLIONS IN GOLD EXPORTED

Bulk of the U. S. Exports Goes to Japan. A Good Share to India and China.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Gold exports from the United States for the month of November approximate $67,000,000, bringing the total amount since the war embargo was lifted last June to $322,985,000. Against the export figures for November there is an offset in imports of less than $11,000,000, making a net loss in the huge gold reserve piled up here during the war of $56,000,000.

Practically all of the gold exported went to the Orient, a destination from which officials say it probably never will return. The bulk of the exports went to Japan, a good share to India and some to China. All of the exports were from San Francisco and the entire quantity found its way to countries that have a balance of trade against the United States.

Imports all came in on the Eastern seaboard and were from allied countries, principally Great Britain. In all these nations the United States has a favorable balance of trade and the dollar is at a premium on exchange.

Officials here take the view that the course of the gold movement is a natural one though there are many who believe that the real need of the nation is relinquishment to debtor nations that they may be kept in position to do business with us and meet their obligations.

When the European war ended the United States held most of the entire world supply of gold and a slow distribution of the metal is looked for. This will operate, it is expected, to maintain the gold standard among the nations using it. It will likewise tend to decrease the clamor in some quarters for a premium for gold production in this country to meet the fall in relative value of the metal.

Since the embargo on gold was lifted the trend has been all one way. Japan has been reaching out for the metal and is getting it in settlement of an unfavorable trade balance. Europe has continued to send a relatively small quantity to this country in settlements.

Big Gusher Struck In Allen

Is Believed to Be Largest Strike Made East of the Mississippi River

COPIED FROM LOUISVILLE EVENING POST DATED NOVEMBER 24, 1919

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Nov. 24.—From reports coming in from the big gusher struck on the Gardner lease in Allen county, the well is the biggest strike made east of the Mississippi river, and is a close competitor of the famous gushers of Oklahoma and Texas. The well is computed by oil men to be good for from 1,000 to 3,000 barrels of oil per day. As soon as the oil was struck it began flowing in such volumes that the entire country surrounding the well was submerged in oil. Basins were immediately built to catch the oil, and there are several lakes of oil on the farm.

The first day 2,500 barrels of oil were caught in twenty-four hours, and at least that much is computed to have been lost before the basins were constructed. It is estimated that on the first day a least 5,000 barrels of oil flowed from the well. The well has been capped and is now under pump, filling tanks placed on the lease. The well is attracting hundreds of oil men here. It is owned by ten farmers of the neighborhood, who pooled a sum to drill the well.

The gusher above described is but a few miles from the three leases owned by this company. There are many other producing wells in other directions from our leases, some very near.

Our leases offer as good prospect for a gusher as the lease on which this well was drilled, in the opinion of experienced oil men and geologists.

Out of 8 wells completed in Barren county last week 7 have paying production—only 1 dry hole. Just average results from our drilling would multiply invested dollars several fold.

Our gold note and stock offer is an honest opportunity for many to share in some of these good things.

Better act right now.

Yours for honest development and fair dealing.

HALF MOORMAN ESTATE GIVEN TAX EXEMPTION.

Tax exemption of half of the Charles P. Moorman estate less an annuity of $10,000 for his invalid son, because it is to be devoted to a charitable purpose, is provided for in a ruling where County Judge Krieger yesterday set aside the finding of the County Board of Tax Supervisors in so far as it applied to the portion devised to Charles P. Moorman, Jr. Judge Krieger upheld the Board of Tax Supervisors on its ruling with regard to the other half of the estate as concerning the devise to Lucy Elizabeth Moorman, a grand-daughter though it tentatively is for a similar purpose.

Demurrer to tax payment was made by the Louisville Trust Company executor, on the ground that all of the estate eventually will be used to erect a home for indigent white women.—Courier-Journal.

To Prevent Rugs Slipping.

There are many devices to prevent rugs from slipping on highly-polished floors. One of the best and also the cheapest is to cut pieces of rough sheathing paper the exact size of the rugs and lay it under them. They will not move them. Another way is to sew triangles of corrugated rubber sheeting to the corners of the rugs.

KENTUCKY PAYS MORE TAXES THAN ANY OTHER STATE

Gives Twice The Revenue. Eight States Pay More On Tobacco Than Ky.

Washington, Dec. 5.—At the end of the last fiscal year, June 30, 1919, more than half of the total amount of taxable whisky remaining in distilleries and bonded warehouses of the United States was in Kentucky, it is shown by the annual report of Daniel Roper, Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

The report shows that the total amount of taxable whisky at that time was 63,942,931 gallons, while 38,811,160 gallons were in Kentucky distilleries and bonded warehouses.

Commissioner Roper's report further shows that more than one-fourth of Internal Revenue Bureau taxes on distilled spirits and alcoholic beverages for the fiscal year, which amounted to $488,050,854.47, was paid by distillers of Kentucky.

Taxes paid in Kentucky amounted to $137,823,580.52, or more than twice as much as was paid by any other State. Pennsylvania paid the second largest amount, $67,155,166.55. New York was third.

Tobacco Big Revenue Producer.

"Tobacco has become one of the great sources of revenue for the Government," the report states. Total receipts from all tobacco taxes were $206,003,091.84, an increase of $49,814,431.94 or 31.8 per cent over the preceding year. Receipts from Kentucky amounted to $6,102,130.71. Eight States paid more money into the Treasury on tobacco than Kentucky. North Carolina paid the largest amount, $67,150,190.35. New York was second, with $35,603,198.95.

The report shows that total internal revenue receipts from Kentucky amounted to $178,927,585.65, of which $156,826,289.35 was for miscellaneous taxes and $22,101,296.30 was for income and profit tax. The increase in Kentucky receipts from income and profits tax over the preceding fiscal year was $1,154,347.49. Total internal revenue receipts from the entire nation amounted to $3,850,150,078.56.

Production of Spirits.

The report shows that 3,957,654.8 gallons of distilled spirits were produced in Kentucky during the last fiscal year, or only a little more than one-fourth the amount produced during the fiscal year of 1918. Total production of distilled spirits in the United States was 100,778,540.6 gallons, as compared with 178,833,799.1 gallons produced during the fiscal year 1918 and 286,085,463 gallons during the fiscal year 1917.

In speaking of the rapid increase in the number of cigarettes manufactured compared with the number of cigars, the report says:

"In 1910 for the first time, the number of cigarettes manufactured was greater than the number of cigars manufactured the approximate number being 8,500,000,000 cigarettes and 8,000,000,000 cigars. Since that time the number of cigarettes has increased very rapidly, while that of cigars has shown no material change. In the last year the number of cigarettes was 46,500,000,000, while that of cigars was approximately 8,000,000,000 as in 1910. Last year, for the first time, the number of pounds of leaf entering into the manufacture of cigarettes totaled more than the number of pounds of leaf entering into the manufacture of cigars, the two numbers being approximately 177,000,000 pounds and 162,000,000 pounds, respectively.

TOBACCO NEWS NOTES.

Judge Newman, of Hawesville, attended Saturday's sale at the Cloverport Loose Leaf Warehouse. The Judge was much impressed with the new floor, and in speaking of it he said, "I'll tell you that's the finest warehouse I've seen anywhere."—Nothing is done by halves in Cloverport.

C. Vic Robertson, Tom Beard and John Skillman, of Hardinsburg, attended the first sale on Wednesday.

One of the best crops of Breckenridge County Burley tobacco on the floor Wednesday and which brought good prices was that of James Chapin and his son, Roy Chapin. The latter has been in the army and since his return he has been the sole partner of his father in the farming industry and making a success of it.

Right now is the best time in the year to renew your subscription.

R. B. Pierce and Owen Whitehouse were two of the local buyers who had tobacco on the floor for Wednesday's sale. They evidently have "an eye" for the best weed as their baskets brought some of the best prices.

The Breckenridge Loose Leaf floor in Hardinsburg, had a big sale Tuesday of this week. The highest for Burley was $92 and for Pryor $35. There was 145,000 lbs. of tobacco on the floor when the sale opened. A good many buyers and growers attended in spite of the inclement weather.

Appalachian Coal Operators' Association asserted that deflections from union ranks continue as a result of the operators' announced policy never to recognize the unions. Sixty per cent of the mines near Pineville, were in operation today. It was said forty per cent of the union miners had returned to work there. At Middlesboro about one-third of the mines are producing with twenty per cent of former union workmen. The Bryson Mountain Coal Company, one of the largest coal producing companies in the section, resumed operations today on an open-shop basis.

Operators declared there is every reason for optimism and pointed to the fact that numerous mines in Harlan County had reopened with small forces, which were being increased daily. The nonunion mines at St. Charles, Va., Wisconsin Steel at Benham and United States Coal Company at Lynch, Ky., reported record productions, producing more than 200 carloads daily.

CONSERVE XMAS TREE FOREST

Cut Christmas Evergreens Wisely in Order to Preserve the National Forest.

A particularly appropriate opportunity to display the Christmas spirit, according to officials of the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture, is the manner in which persons getting Christmas trees direct from the forest cut the evergreens for their holiday celebration. Each year thousands of dwellers in towns and cities near the national forest or privately owned forests turn to these tracts for trees which are to be the central features in yuletide decorations. Where the trees are cut in accord with the recommendations of the Forest Service no harm is done, but the tendency of many is to slash into the growth without regard to conserving the forest's resources.

The point particularly emphasized by the Government's foresters is that a tree selected for cutting should be one which is part of a group of trees of comparatively compact growth rather than a more or less isolated tree, the absence of which would make a decided gap that future growth could not fill.

Objection is sometimes made to selecting for Christmas purposes a tree standing close to others because the one chosen is apt to be unsymmetrical, the lower branches particularly being irregular and unattractive. This difficulty can be overcome by selecting a tree several feet taller than the height desired and cutting off the lower end.

Wherever possible local Forest Service officials are glad to recommend areas under their jurisdiction in which it is entirely proper to make cuttings of Christmas trees.

Very large trees selected for municipal celebrations or church use need not be symmetrical in their natural state, as they can easily be made so by boring holes in the trunk and inserting sufficient limbs or proper size

ENGLAND'S SECRETARY OF WAR DRIVES FORD.

When Winston Churchill, England's Secretary of War became interested in the British "Campaign for Economy," he indorsed it with true sincerity. He decided his Rolls Royce automobile must be replaced by a smaller and more economical car. So he cast his eye about in search of one that would be low in purchase price and low in upkeep. The makes of cars bearing those virtues were few. Lord Churchill found just one; he bought it—A Ford.

FARMERS COMMUNITY MEETINGS HEARD OF ALL OVER NATION.

Meetings Will Be Carried On Again Next Summer.

Kentucky as a prosperous, growing State, became known in every community from coast to coast as result of the farmers' community meetings held throughout the State last summer. This announcement was made by members of the State Development Committee of the Board of Trade, who met yesterday afternoon in the Pendergast Club and unanimously voted to continue the meetings next summer.

Dr. Francis Sage Bradley, Washington head of the children's bureau, who served a year in France doing reconstruction work, told how the farmers' meetings in Kentucky had attracted much attention in the Capital. Among other speakers were: Dr. C. B. Cornell, of the University of Kentucky; Thomas Bryant of the extension division, State College of Agriculture; Rodman Wiley, former Road Commissioner; the Rev. Dr. R. L. McCready, dean of Christ Church Cathedral; Dr. A. T. McCormack, secretary of the State Board of Health; V. O. Gilbert, Superintendent of Public Instruction and George Colvin, Superintendent-elect of Public Instruction.

The committee in its report showed $3,350 on hand to start its work next summer.—Courier-Journal.

Why Mr. Joe Armstrong, Celebrated Dog Trainer, Uses Rat-Snap.

"Noticed rats around my kennels, having hundreds of prize dogs, couldn't take chances. Tried RAT-SNAP; in three weeks every rat disappeared. Noticed that the dogs never went near RAT-SNAP. I tell my friends about RAT-SNAP." Use this sure rodent it's safe, comes in cake form. Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by Conrad Payne & Co., Cloverport; E. A.
